

ENGLISH CLASSES AT ZUROSKI

COMPANY BACKGROUND:

Zuroski Consulting owner and senior consultant, Ellen Zuroski, brings more than 30 years of experience in second language and intercultural communication training and consulting in community, university, and business. Ellen is the founder of the internationally recognized English Language and U.S. Culture Program at the Simon Business School, University of Rochester. Zuroski Consulting instructors are experienced ESOL professionals with K-12 and higher education teaching credentials.

OUR CLIENTS:

Our individual clients include undergraduate and graduate students, researchers, business professionals, families of international professionals, and international high school students. Our institutional clients include medical, higher education and business organizations.

THE SERVICES WE OFFER:

Our English language classes build foundational to advanced English communication skills. Our small group and individual classes are held at convenient times in the day and evening. Additionally, we provide our institutional clients with intercultural communication training and consulting services.

SAMPLE CLASSES OFFERED:

- English Language at Beginners, Intermediate and Advanced Levels
- Weekly Conversation Class
- Internship and Job Search Communication and Networking
- English for Graduate Students and Research Professionals
- Presentation skills
- Test preparation

OUR APPROACH:

Our small group and individual classes enable us to ensure that each client receives focused support in order to reach his/her own communication learning objectives. We apply input from referring institutions to develop class materials.

OUR FEES:

Group class fee is $30 an hour and individual class fees are $50 an hour.